BENGEL'S GNOMON.

In Preparation, to be completed in Five Volumes, 8vo., Price 28s. to Subscribers,

A TRANSLATION OF BENGE'S GNOMON OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

"Bengel's invaluable work—a work which manifests the profoundest and most intimate knowledge of Scripture, and which, if we examine it with care, will often be found to condense more matter into a line than can be extracted from pages of other writers."—Archdeacon Hare.
2 vols. are expected to be ready towards the latter end of June, and the remainder before the end of the year.

Besides the original matter of Bengel, there is contained in the forthcoming work, in all passages where Bengel differs from the received text, a full but condensed statement by the Editor of the oldest authorities, MSS, versions, and fathers, both for and against the received reading.

Also, wherever Bengel gives distinctions of synonyms the Editor has given the opinions of Pittman, Trench, and himself on the true distinctions in such cases, especially where Bengel may be supposed not to have fully apprehended those distinctions.

DR. MILNER REFUTED. Part II.

OR,

PIOUS FRAUDS EXEMPLIFIED IN DR. MILNER'S "END OF CONTROVERSY."

Being a Series of Original, Selected, and Contributed Articles, exposing Dr. Milner's Fallacies and Fictions, By CHARLES HASTINGS COLLETTE, Esq.

Price to Subscribers (who send their names before the 1st SEPTEMBER), 3s. post free; to non-Subscribers, 5s.
DUBLIN: WILLIAM CURRY AND CO., 9, Upper Sackville-street.

To the Roman Catholic controversialist, Dr. Milner's book has very extensively supplied weapons of attack, though very few have cared either to test the value of the authority on which their favourite author relies, or to go further for materials; while, on the other hand, there is scarcely a writer on the Protestant side of the question who has not, in one shape or another, been able to detect gross and palpable misrepresentations in Dr. Milner's assertions. We have, therefore, scattered about in different quarters, in chapters and notes, materials (though not easily obtainable by the generality of readers) for exposing these various "pious frauds."

It is our purpose in the present work, without following any particular order, to bring before our readers illustrations of "PIOUS FRAUDS" of the Rev. Dr. MILNER, as exemplified in the work in question, availing ourselves from time to time of the labours of others, as well original as published; and, during this examination, we may occasionally refer to Dr. Milner's other work, "Letters to a Prebendary."

We shall confine ourselves as closely as possible to the exposure of Dr. Milner's misrepresentations, rather than enter on a general discussion or examination of the doctrines of the Roman Church. We are fully aware of the difficulty and extent of the task we have undertaken, arising from the wide range of subjects treated of by Dr. Milner, condensed into a small compass (without any attempt at accuracy, either in citation of historical facts or quotations from writers). Notwithstanding these difficulties, we feel confident that, though it may be impossible in a limited compass to expose all the misrepresentations of Dr. Milner, we shall be able to lay before our readers sufficient to destroy his credit, either as a Divine or Controversialist.

Preparing for Publication,

MOORE'S IRISH MELODIES.

The Music printed with the Words.

In One Volume, imperial 8vo., small music size, convenient and legible at the Pianoforte, but more portable than the usual form of Musical publications.

"This work in its complete form has been hitherto inaccessible to all but the few who can afford Seven or Eight Pounds for a single book; and the Publishers are assured that few more valuable contributions could be offered to the public taste than an Edition of these exquisite Melodies, comprising the Music as well as the Words, in a convenient form, and at a moderate price. In the original edition many of the Airs were given only as harmonised for two, three, or four voices; but those who were acquainted with the Poet knew that, with one or two exceptions, they were all intended to be sung by a single voice, as his own delightful execution of many that were so harmoniously testified. In the present volume, therefore, the Airs are all, with the few exceptions above mentioned, reduced to the leading part for one voice; and the Harmonised Melodies will be published in their concerted form in a separate volume. The arrangements and the symphonies, composed by Sir John Stevenson and Sir Henry Bishop, are admirably retained, because they underwent the scrutiny of the Author, and were adopted by him only when each had satisfied his taste by its exact adaptation to the character of the Air and the spirit of his Poem."

PARALYSIS AND NEURALGIA;

Their Prevention and Cure; with Observations on the Skin.
By HENRY TWEEDY, M.D.

This Publication professes to be a contribution, however humble, to the practical application of the science of medicine. The author feels increasingly from day to day the importance and truthfulness of the statements set forth in it.
He does not attempt an enumeration of the many causes said to be productive of paralysis, neuralgia, rheumatism, and gout; his endeavour has rather been to direct particular attention to four remedial agents, by the use of which, in those diseases, sudden death shall, in the providence of God, be averted, acute pain speedily removed, formidable disease rapidly overcome, and the invaluable blessings of mental and bodily health and activity preserved. Having at his own residence devoted much time to practical GALVANISM, the preparation and administration of MEDICATED VAPOUR BATHS, the operation of DRY-CUPPING with an air-pump, together with the exhibition of small doses of medicine to act upon the skin, he most conscientiously declares that he has seldom or never found them fail as instruments for preventing, controlling, relieving, and curing affections of the brain and nervous system."

"We have read with great delight, and no small profit, Dr.
Tweedy's valuable work on paralysis and neuralgia. We recommend it to all who value the preservation of health."— Christian Examiner.

"We rejoice at the appearance of such practical and popular treatises as that before us. It suggests many lessons on the subject of health which will commend themselves to the reader."

"The great importance of this pamphlet consists in the fact that the author's views are not speculative, but practical, and that he writes from personal observation in the sick room."— Daily Express.

"This publication is written in a plain, popular, and most pleasing style. Every page contains information not generally known, and which none can read without interest."—*Dublin
